

Integrating Security and Emergency Management

Y-12 National Security Complex

W. M. “Mike” Arendale

Chemical Engineer, Program Manager,
Emergency Management Program

NNSA Y-12 Site Office

May 5, 2004

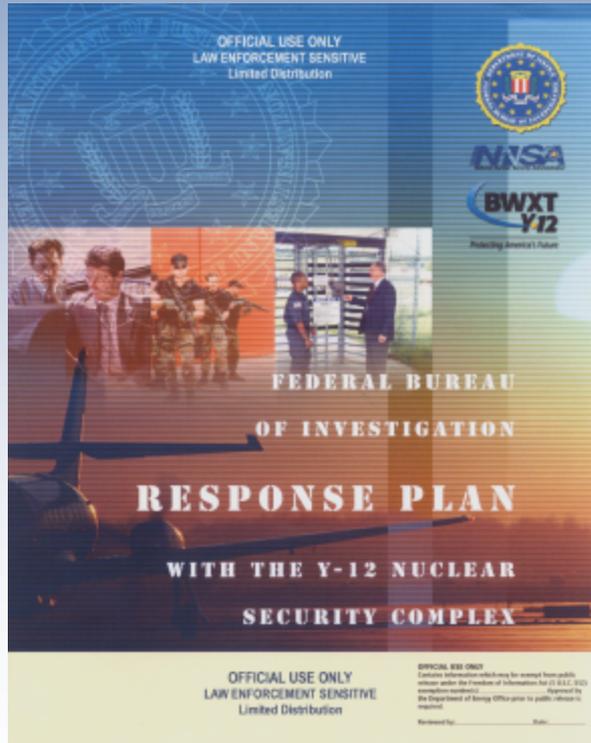

Overview of Emergency Events

- Emergency events requiring support from offsite agencies
 - Hostage situations
 - Terrorism
 - Theft or diversion of Special Nuclear Material
 - Threat or use of Weapons of Mass Destruction
 - Hazardous releases from the Y-12 NSC affecting the City of Oak Ridge
 - Hazardous releases from the City of Oak Ridge affecting the Y-12 NSC

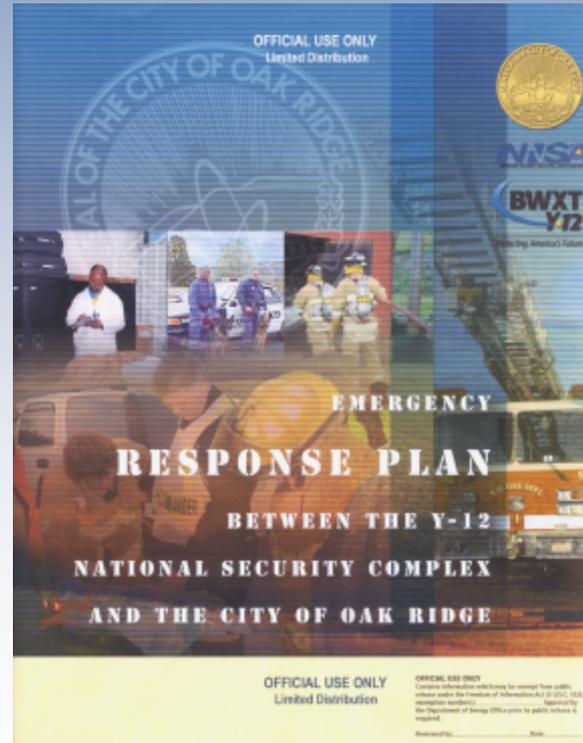

Response Plans

FBI

City of Oak Ridge

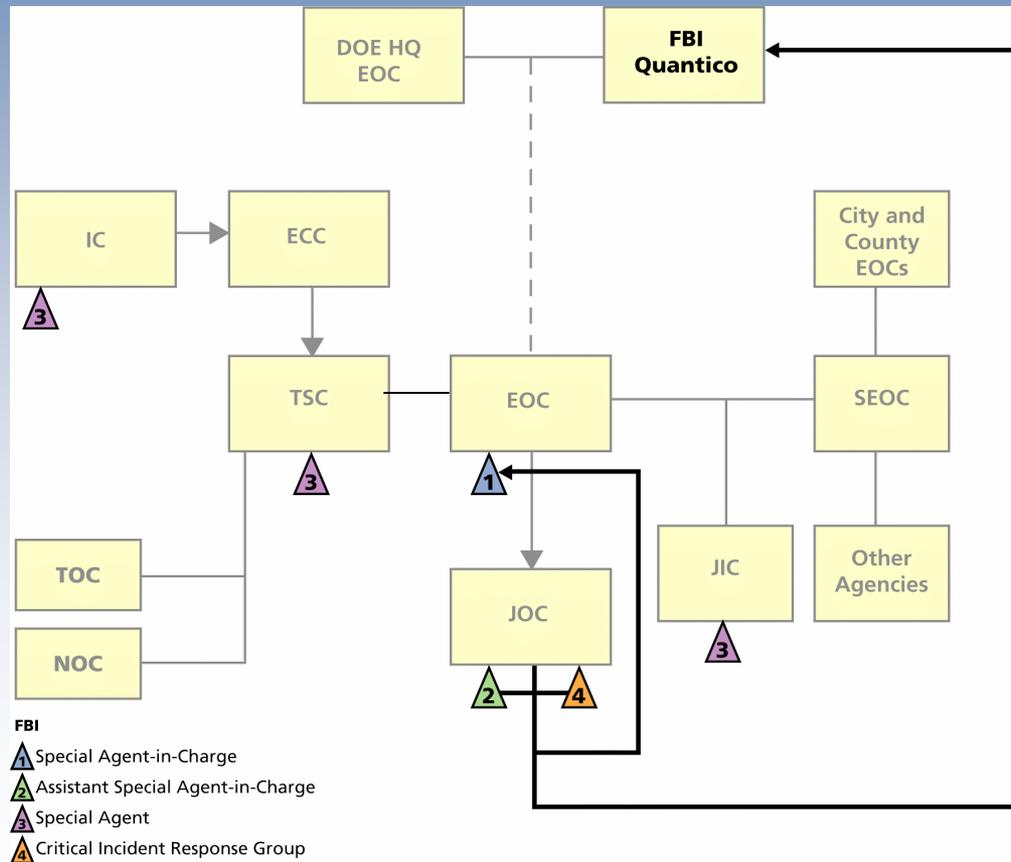

FBI Response Plan

- Command and Control Structure
- Logistical requirements
- Access Control

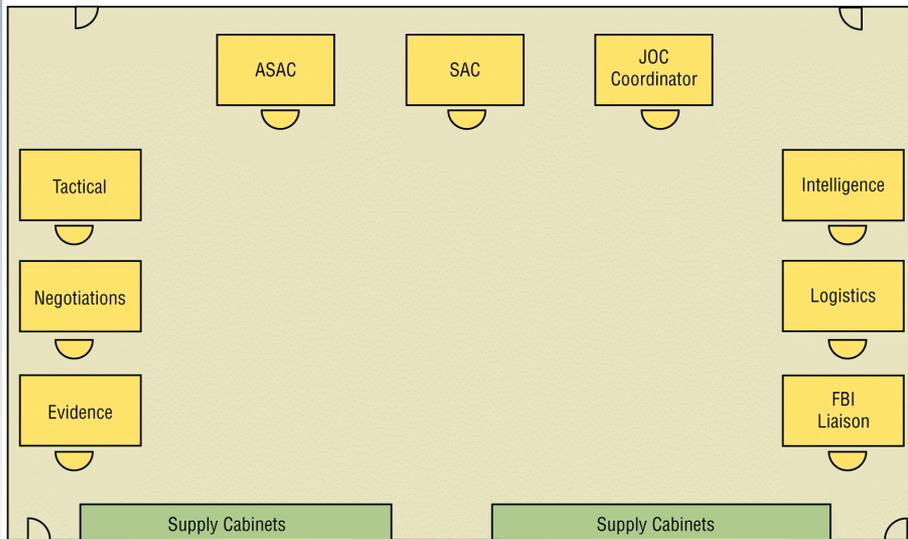

FBI Command and Control Structure

YGG-03-0437R1

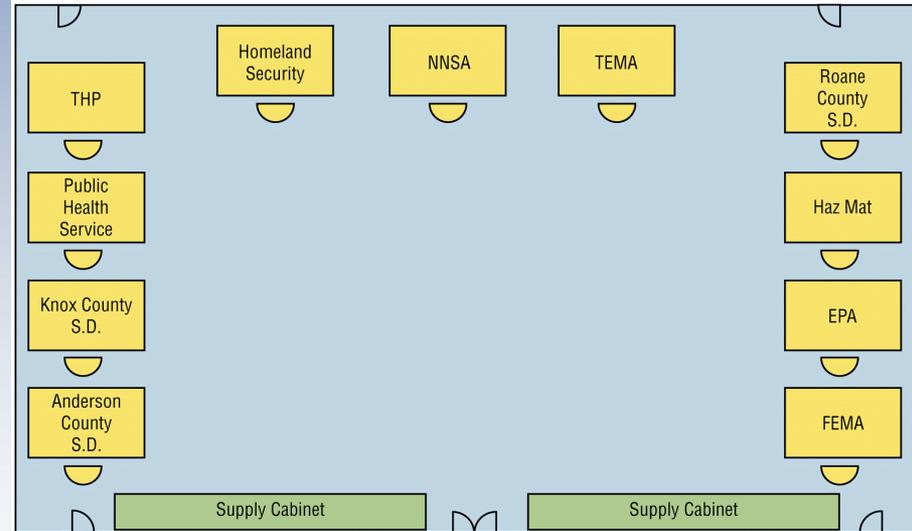

FBI Logistical Requirements

FBI/NNSA Joint Operations Center
Building 9709 Room 137

YGG 04-0108

FBI/NNSA Joint Operations Center
Building 9709 Room 139

YGG 04-0107

FBI Access Control

City of Oak Ridge Response Plan

- Y-12 NSC Location and Emergency Response Boundary
- City of Oak Ridge Hazards
- Command and Control Structure
- Access Control

Y-12 NSC Location and Emergency Response Boundary

LEGEND
— Y-12 NSC Emergency Response Boundary (ERB)
YOC-44-011A

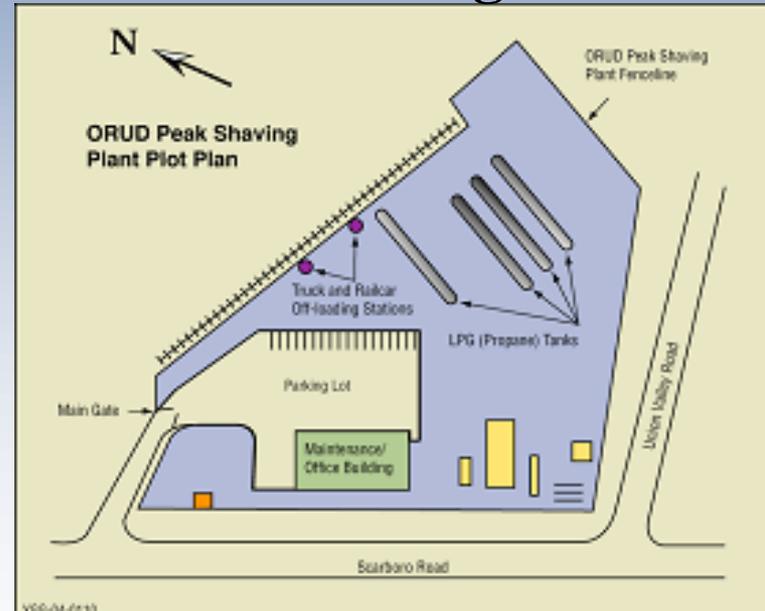

EMERGENCY RESPONSE BOUNDARY (ERB)
AT THE Y-12 NATIONAL SECURITY COMPLEX

City of Oak Ridge Hazards

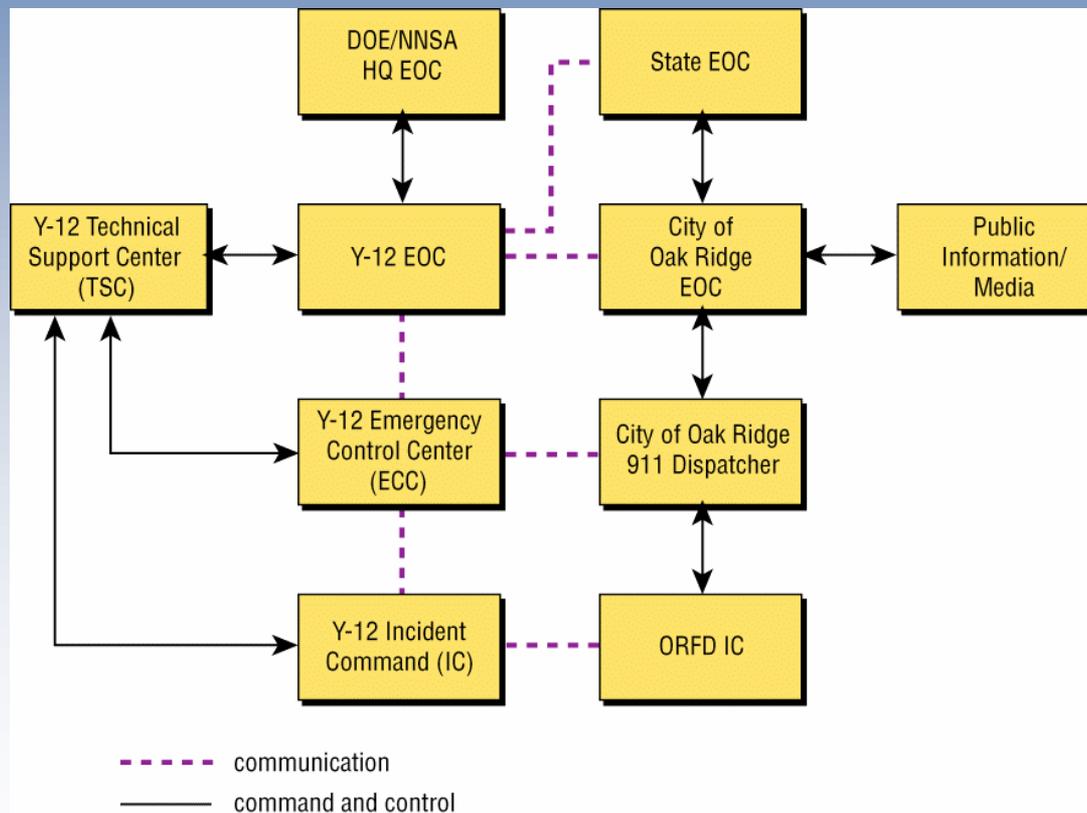

Oak Ridge Water Treatment Plant

Oak Ridge Utility District Peak Shaving Plant

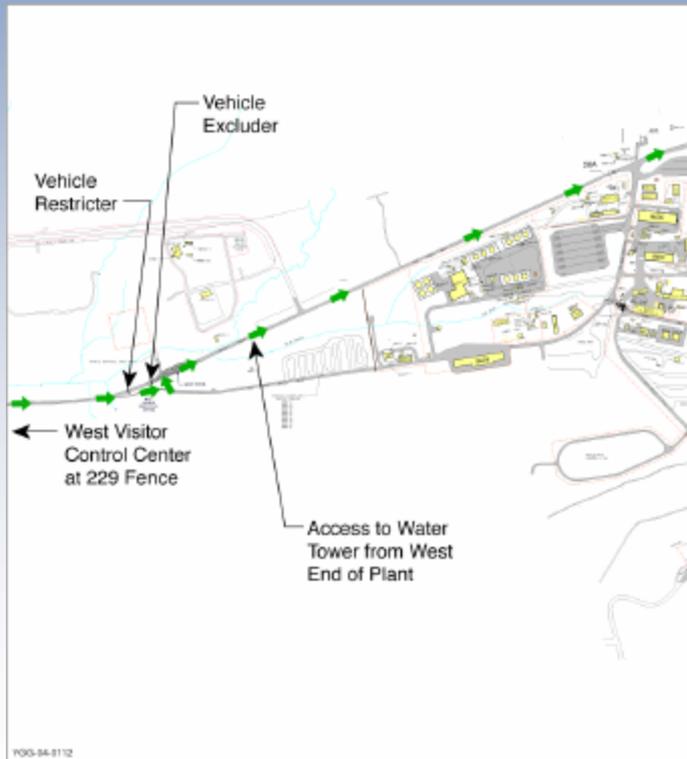

City of Oak Ridge Command and Control Structure

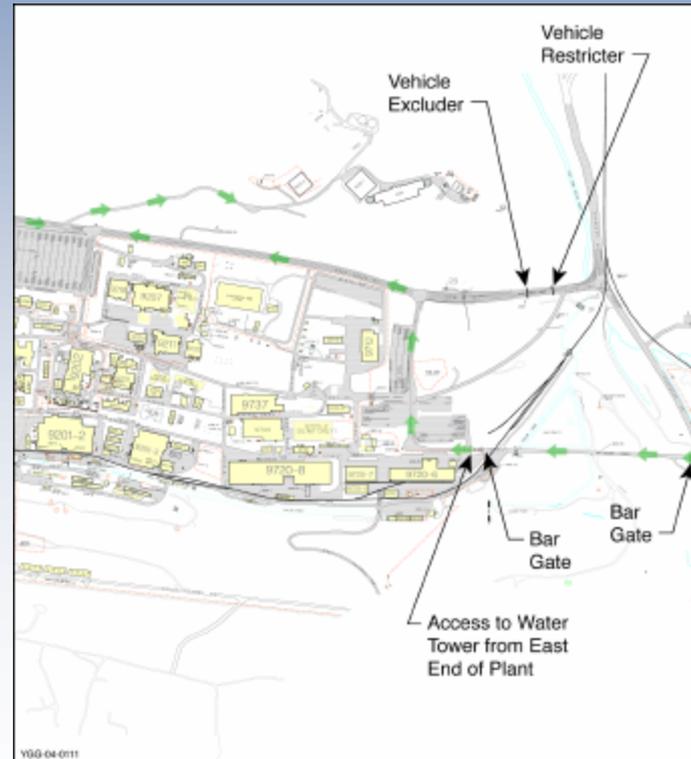

YGG-04-0109

City of Oak Ridge Responder Access Control

West End

East End

Summary

- Planning is KEY
 - Plan for onsite events that impacts offsite entities
 - Plan for offsite events that impact your site
- Understand Command and Control
- Understand Access Control
- Understand interfaces and logistics

Questions?

Thanks

