

STEM Diversity Summit 2024

Career Connections to Federal Internships & Fellowships

Luis Caicedo Torres

Dr. Luis Caicedo Torres is a recent graduate of Florida International University's mathematics Ph.D. program. His research interests are in partial differential equations, machine learning, and the applications of mathematical analysis. Under the National Nuclear Security Administration Minority Serving Institutions Internship Program (MSIIP), he works on the implementation of physics-informed machine learning in the nuclear engineering space for advanced nuclear systems modeling.