

Save the Earth K-2 Student Challenge

People are polluting our oceans with millions of pounds of plastic each year. The problem is when plastic enters the ocean it likes to hold onto it for a while. This is bad because fish and birds eat the plastic and die or are eaten by other animals until it ends up in our food causing us to poison ourselves as well. I can help by recycling, but everyone needs to do it if we want to make a difference. Another way to help is by using reusable items such as metal or glass cups and straws. Pollution is not just my problem, it's all of ours!
